The News:

Record Maritime Seizure off the Coast of Panama Yields $300 Million of Cocaine

In a case announced today, the U.S. Coast Guard, as a result of joint DEA and Panamanian law enforcement information—made the largest maritime seizure of drugs the world has ever seen. On the high seas of the eastern Pacific bound for Mexico, we stopped the freighter Gatun before it could deliver 21 metric tons of cocaine—denying Mexican drug lords more than $300 million in drug revenue.

Maritime Cocaine Seizure Case:

Want to see what over 700 bales of cocaine looks like? Note that minimal effort was taken to conceal the drugs – a unique aspect of this case. Although most traffickers conceal their poisons in loads of legitimate cargo or in hidden compartments, this organization did none of that. They simply loaded bales of cocaine into cargo containers stored in plain view on the main deck of the freighter. Click here to see for yourself.
